

Remote Work Policy

1. Eligibility Criteria

Employees are eligible for remote work arrangements after completing their initial 90-day probationary period. Remote work is subject to manager approval based on role requirements.

2. Equipment Provision

The company will provide a standardized IT equipment kit, including a laptop, a monitor, a headset, and a docking station. Home internet and utility costs are the responsibility of the employee.

3. Working Hours

Remote employees must adhere to core business hours (10:00 AM to 3:00 PM local time). Flexibility outside these hours is permitted, provided the standard 40-hour work week is met.

4. Communication Expectations

Employees working remotely are expected to remain available via Microsoft Teams and Outlook during working hours. Video must be enabled during external client meetings and major internal syncs.

5. Approval Process

A formal "Remote Work Agreement" form must be filled out, signed by both the employee and their line manager, and submitted to HR before remote work can commence.
