

No Objection Certificate (NOC) Policy

Northgate Group — HR Policy | Version 3.1 | Effective 1 January 2026 | Owner: People Operations

1. What an NOC Is

A no objection certificate, commonly shortened to NOC, is a letter in which Northgate Group states that it has no objection to an employee undertaking a specific activity. It is addressed to a named authority and is valid only for the purpose stated in the letter. An NOC is not a general-purpose reference and cannot be reused for a different purpose.

2. Common Uses

- Tourist or visit visa applications where the embassy requires employer confirmation.
- Driving licence applications and transfers.
- Opening a bank account or applying for a vehicle loan.
- Attending a professional course or sitting a professional examination during working hours.
- Sponsoring a family member's residence application.

3. How to Request an NOC

Raise an HR request in the employee portal with the request type Document Request and the document type NOC. The description must state the purpose, the exact name of the authority the letter should be addressed to, and the country concerned. Where the request relates to travel, include the intended travel dates and confirm that any overlapping annual leave has been approved separately.

An NOC for travel does not approve the leave itself. The employee must also raise a Leave Request covering the travel dates, and People Operations will not issue a travel NOC where the corresponding leave has been declined.

4. Required Information

- Full legal name as shown on the passport, and passport number where the NOC is for an embassy.
- Employee identification number and current job title.
- The exact addressee, for example the name of the embassy or licensing authority.
- The purpose and, for travel, the destination country and the travel dates.
- Whether attestation or a stamped original is required.

5. Processing Time and Conditions

The standard processing time is three business days from receipt of a complete request, or five business days where attestation is required. An NOC is issued only to confirmed employees who have completed probation.

An NOC may be declined where the employee has an unresolved disciplinary matter, where the stated purpose conflicts with the employment contract, such as taking up paid work with another employer, or where the requested wording would commit the company to an obligation it cannot meet. A declined request is closed with a written reason and the employee may discuss it with People Operations.

6. Collection

The signed PDF is attached to the original request. Stamped originals are collected in person from the People Operations desk on presentation of a company identity card. Originals are not released to family members or agents without written authorisation from the employee.
